DAUGHERTY NOW IN THE LEAD

HAS MORE VOTES FOR GOVERNOR THAN ANY OTHER CANDIDATE.

Victory for "Boss" Cox, of Cincinnati, and His Delegation-Foraker Fight-

COLUMBUS, O., June 1.-This has been a Daugherty day among the Republican state convention delegates as much as yesterday was Nash day. The conferences continue, however, and the field may next turn on Daugherty. There is as yet no winning slate, and there are those who believe that no winning combination can be formed until after the test of balloting. The committee on rules and order of business to-night limited all nominating speeches to five minutes, with only one seconding speech of one minute, in anticipation of the convention running late into Friday night or being continued over to Saturday. The mmittee on permanent organization decided to report in favor of making the temporary organization permanent. This will also save time. As the temporary organization was selected by the old state central committee, and was known as favorable to Daugherty, this action was claimed as one of the series of Daugherty victories of the day. But it is believed that this action was due to the fact that Mr. Kerr not only made a captivating speech to-day, but also an excellent presiding officer.

Among the features of the day were the speeches at the hotels, that were bitter and defiant, and those at the convention, that were all for harmony. The leaders who joined the chorus at the Auditorium from 4 to 6 p. m in a sort of peace jubilee, however, spent the night in contests and conferences that were not very harmonious.

While H. M. Daugherty has apparently had the best of it all day, at the conferences in the morning, in the selection of mitteemen in the afternoon, in the demonstrations at the convention and in the proceedings of the committees to-night, yet he is having odds only as the leading candidate, and not yet as a winner. Nash will be a close second and Lieutenant Governor A. W. Jones a much closer third than has been anticipated up until to-night. In the field R. M. Nevin, of Dayton, is looming up, while none of the others seems to be

While the forces of Cox, Daughtery and Kurtz combined against Nash to-day as the Hanna candidate in all the preliminary work, yet this "combine" cannot apparently get together on any one man for Gov-Cox wants a dark horse and is grooming Shattuc till he names his favorite. Foraker wants Jones. Kurtz does not want Jones or Daugherty if he can get some one he likes better. Meantime Daugherty insists that he has more votes than Jones, Cox and Kurtz combined; that they should ome to him if they want to defeat Nash and thereby indirectly defeat Senator Hanna. It is in this complication that Nevin is only a leader in the prospective balloting, but he also has the best organization of any of the candidates. Ex-Chairman Huling, who opened the convention, and Chairman Kerr, who presided, are both for Daugherry, and all of those at the state headquarters last year are actively in the field for him. He has workers from every county and an organized army about him here. Senator Hanna and Judge Nash, as well as many others, have been surprised at his organization.

The new state committee to-night elected Vivian J. Fagan chairman and P. W. Durr secretary, and will meet here June 17 for permanent organization.

Mr. Huling was cheered at every mention of the name of McKinley. The convention started in a vein for cheering during this speech and kept it up during the entire session. Mr. Huling announced that the REACHES PARIS AND IS GIVEN AN state committee had selected the following temporary organization: Chairman, W. S. Kerr, of Mansfield; secretary, Hon. E. L. CHAIRMAN KERR'S ADDRESS. On being introduced Congressman Kerr was heartily cheered. He spoke at length and concluded as follows:

"More than ten years ago the Republican party, in national convention, declared as follows: 'We declare our opposition to all or otherwise, to control arbitrarily the condition of trade among our citizens, and we recommend to Congerss and state legislatures in their respective jurisdictions such legislation as will prevent the execution of all schemes to oppress the people by undue charges on their supplies, or by unjust rates for the transportation of the products to market. In many of the States the Republican party passed laws making unlawful these com-binations and monopolles. Republican officials have been industrious and persistent in prosecuting violations of these anti-trust laws, and under decisions rendered in the prosecutions many of these combinations have been dissolved. Mr. Kerr was very frequently interrupted by applause and especially when he paid a tribute to John Sherman in retirement. The Daugherty men had an inning of demonstration when Mr. Kerr referred to the results the last brilliantly managed campaign.

SPEECHES BY THE LEADERS. Marchand, as the chief guest, took Madame Lockroy, the wife of the marine minister, into the banqueting room. He told her that the prospect was their great incentive to exertion in the march across Africa. Whenever their courage flagged, Marchand cried to them: "Boys Another strong effort to make sure of seeing Paris." This electrified them. They are now all at Toulon, and he told Madame Lockroy that he strongly felt his promise should be kept and that their deep disappointment prevented his enjoying himself. Madame Lockroy repeated what he said, talking across the table to her husband; and all the company sympathized with the explorer. It is now settled that his brave blacks are to come to Paris. The setout of the table at luncheon was original, charming and poetic. The floral decorations were entirely of wild flowers, blue, red and white. Madame Lockroy thought Marchand and his compaions would prefer, after their long sojourn in Africa, the flora of the French woods and fields to any other. Did they not also better symbol ize a democratic army than other flowers? Another consideration was that they are less staring. Wild oats and grasses left grace to the floral harmony. Marchand looks a hero after Victor Hugo's heart. He is silent, thoughtful, modest without bashfulness. He might almost be an American, so strong an impression does he give of unaffected stoicism and dauntless firmness. His face is deeply lined and care worn: but the sweetness of his countenance is indescribable. He seems gentleness itsel when the lines relax into a smile.

PARIS, June 1.-The civil and military authorities and a big crowd of people went to the railroad station at Lyons at 1 o'clock this morning to welcome Major Marchand, the African explorer, on his way to Paris from Toulon. Major Marchand and the representative of the minister of marine which, on emerging from the railroad station, was greeted with storms of cheering cers and noncommissioned officers on the military fashion.

Delirious enthusiasm marked every step of Marchand's progress along the Boulevard Dideret to the Henri Quatre bridge. On either step of the carriage stood a policeman who kept the explorer's frantic admirers from entering the vehicle. The procession, in which were several carriages conveying noncommissioned comrades and officers sent to greet the explorer, proceeded along the quays to the Boulevard St. Germain, headed by a detachment of horse guards. There was frantic enthusiasm along the entire route. The crowds, in spite of the efforts of the police, broke into the procession, cut off Marchand's carriage from the others, and surrounded it, cheering and waving hats and sticks.

The procession arrived at the Place de la Concorde at a walking pace and stopped in he eulogized President McKinley and pleaded front of the Ministry of Marine, where for success this year and his interest next | Marchand entered. The other carriages finally arrived with Captain Baratier, Dr. Emily, Ensign Dye and the other members of the expedition. The crowd noticed there Marine and shouted for one, whereupon the occupants of a house across threw a flag to the crowd. The police, however, seized it scuffling. The minister of marine and Major Marchand then appeared on the balcony and the other members of the expedition followed, formed a group and repeatedly bowed

The Place de la Concorde was black with people and the houses on the Avenue de l'Opera, at the corner of which the Military Club is situated, and the adjacent streets were decorated with flags. An enormous crowd gathered in front of the Military Club and cheered for the army. The interior of the club was decorated with trophies of flags, flowers, etc. Squads of municipal guards, mounted and on foot, eventually cleared the Avenue de l'Opera and diverted all traffic from it.

Marchand and his companions then lunched at the Ministry of Marine, a number of generals and admirals being among the guests. After listening to congratulatory speeches, Marchand received from the mincombinations of capital, organized in trust FRIENDS STOP HIS CARRIAGE ister of the colonies, M. Guillain, a medal commemorative of the expedition. A delegation from the military newspapers then presented the explorer with a sword of honor, after which Major Marchand, accompanied by the minister of marine, drove to the Elysee Palace at 3 o'clock. The crowds along the route cheered the marine minister and Marchand. Immense throngs of people surrounded the palace and shouts of 'Down with Panama!" caused the arrest of a number of those who gave vent to their feelings in that manner.

After a tour of the other ministries Major Marchand reached the Military Club. The space in front of the building had been cleared by the police and the explorer's arrival was the signal for an outburst of cheering. There were immense crowds in the neighboring streets, the windows were filled with spectators and the roofs were covered with people. Major Marchand and Captain Baratier appeared on the balcony of the club in response to cries, which were then redoubled. The demonstration continued to a late hour in the evening, the crowds parading and shouting the now familiar cries and singing the "Marseillaise." A royalist band, carrying a flag, was dispersed by the police and an attempt to create a demonstration in favor of Deroulede was quickly drowned by cheers for Marchand and the army.

A dramatic scene occurred at the Military Club in the course of the evening. Major Marchand, in response to loud cheering, apla France! Vive la republique!" The throngs went wild with excitement. The Chamber of Deputies this afternoon adopted a resolution of thanks to Major Marchand for his services in Africa and to General Galliense for his brilliant administration in Madagascar. The resolution was opposed by M. Albert Joseph Walter, Revolutionary Socialist deputy for St. Denis. who was vigorously hooted.

The Military Club's reception to the members of the mission was a very brilliant affair. General Zurlinden, military governor of Paris, other officers of high rank and the ministers were present. Speeches were made by M. Lockroy and General Zurlinden, who paid eloquent tributes to the work of the expedition. Major Marchand, after a brief expression of thanks, made a tour of the rooms, shaking hands with those present, while the band played martial

After a full discussion an informal ballot was taken, which reand three for Sherman, of New York. Then a formal ballot was taken and the vote stood eleven for Henderson and one for Sherman. The following representatives voted for Henderson: Burton, Dick, Grosvenor, Kerr, | had departed. He had come back from New Librand, Phillips, Shattuc, Southard, Tay- York and he gave himself up to the justice, lor, Van Voorhis and Weaver. Hon. Seth W. Brown voted even on the last ballot for advance of the session of Congress.

While Mr. Bromwell was absent on account of pressing business and Mr. Danford on account of sickness, it is understood that they were both favorable to Henderson, and Mr. Morgan had so expressed himself previous to his engagement on the committee on resolutions. It is believed that the fifteen Ohio Republican votes will all be cast for Henderson and that the delegation will be actively at work for him.

After the conference General Grosvenor said: "This makes Henderson a sure winner of the speakership. I don't know the exact location of all his votes, but he will have enough to elect him.'

The Illinois Delegation. CHICAGO, June 1 .- Congressman Hopkins was in conference at the Grand Pacific Hotel to-day with Congressman Lorimer and a Michigan congressman friendly to him. To-morrow the entire Illinois delegation will meet at the Grand Pacific. Friends of Congressman Cannon, who sought his selection at the time Congressman Hopkins was chosen as the State's favorite, were reluctant to continue steadfast to the Aurora man.

ARRIVAL AT NEW YORK. Everybody Anxious to See the Child at the Clark House.

NEW YORK, June 1 .- Arthur Clark, the father of the abducted child, accompanied by Chief of Police Devery and Captain Me-Clusky, arrived in this city about half past 10 o'clock to-night, bringing back the twenty months' old child which had been missing for twelve days. Hundreds of people were gathered before the Clark house, and the party with the baby had to struggle through the frantic crowd. There was continuous cheering from the people banked around the carriage as it drove up to the door, and in spite of the effort of the police to keep the sidewalks clear, the child was almost suffocated in the crush of the people pressing forward. Mr. Clark had to fight his way up the steps, followed by Chief Devery and Captain McClusky.

Mr. Clark rushed to meet his wife, and the mother took the child in her arms an wept and sobbed. The crowd on the outside yelled to see the baby and Mr. Clark held the child up to the window so that all could see it. Maitre Mornard, counsel for Madame was largely a rethreshing of straw already thoroughly threshed out by MM. Ballot de Beaupre and Manau. He warmly eulogized the report of M. Counsel for Madame Dreyfus concluded with protesting against the idea that even for the sake of the honor of the army might should dominate over right. He said the army itself was thirsting for honor and justice to be rendered and he pointed out that the army could not be dishonored by the acknowledgement that a judicial error had been committed. Counsel then said: "I am awaiting your verdict, believing it will prove to be the blessed dawn which will throw upon our beloved country the light of concord and truth." (Applause.) The president of the court then announced that sentence would be delivered at one of the approaching sessions of the court. It is generally surmised that the sentence will be delivered on Saturday, at the opening of the sitting of the court.

Otis's total up to thirty thousand?" "If volunteers are called for," replied the secretary, "the call will probably be for ten thousand men."

Secretary Alger has ordered the quartermaster general to make a careful computaion of the mileage the Philippine volunteers from each State would be entitled to should they be mustered out at San Francisco, and has also attached to the statement a schedule of the railroad rates that each man would be required to pay out of his pocket in the event that he elected to take the travel allowance. This information was embodied in the shape of a message which was cabled to General Otis as fol-

"Volunteers mustered out at San Francisco will receive travel pay, approximately, as follows: Men from Colorado, $59 to $95; Idaho, $51 to $81; Iowa, $82 to $130; Kanbraska, $74 to $117; Nevada, $55 to $87; North sylvania, $127 to $201; South Dakota, $82 to $120; Tennessee, $107 to $169; Utah, $36 to $57: Washington, $39 to $62; Wyoming, $55 to $87; sums are graded among noncommissioned officers. Railroad fares are: San Francisco peka, $37; Des Moines, $40; Sioux Falls, $41; Chevenne and Denver, $35, not including subsistence. Officers, of course, get larger sums. Submit these facts to each regiment and let them determine by vote whether they will be mustered out at San Francisco and take travel pay or in their own States. transported by the government.
